

>From: Joan_Mish@
>Sender: Joan_Mish@
>To: rlbecker@songstar.org
>Date: Thu, 22 Jun 2000 10:43:44 -0400
>Subject: Manhattan Dinner Cruise

I have to tell you just in case it's an issue, that part of the goals I set for myself in this "class" I'm taking is to find more men friends who aren't "prospects". And you seem to qualify. And, on that note, it occurred to me you might enjoy this venture. If you need to get out, this is one way to do it :-). This is a fabulous event, the view alone is worth the price of admission. You could even bring a friend, if you like. I have a few people I'm inviting, because I am holding six tickets. No one is definite except me. This may be premature because I don't know you very well, but I'm gonna go for it. You'd have to meet us there.

Any interest? THIS IS NOT A DATE.....

Manhattan Dinner Cruise:
Join PEAC on August 4

We hope you and your friends and family can join PEAC aboard the 95' luxury yacht, Cloud Nine, on August 4, for a five-hour journey (7 p.m. to 12 a.m.) down the East River?past the United Nations, South Street Seaport, and the World Financial Center, to the Statue of Liberty - and back again. If you've never been on a boat on the water during twilight to watch the Manhattan skyline come to life, you've missed out!

Tickets are $73 and include cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, followed by an elaborate buffet dinner and fabulous desserts. The top deck is open for dancing and stargazing. Vessels depart from the World's Fair Marina in Flushing, where secured parking is available.

Dress is casual. Expect temperatures on the water to be 10 degrees cooler than on land.

Click to go back to the story of Me and Joan